

Roberta A. Skebo
UNIVERSITY OF HOUSTON
SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CENTER NETWORK

Director – Metropolitan Center

Roberta A. Skebo is the director of the Metropolitan Center at the University of Houston Small Business Development Center (SBDC), an economic outreach program of the C.T. Bauer College of Business offering free management consulting services to entrepreneurs and business owners in the greater Houston area to help them start, grow and successfully compete in today's global environment.

Ms. Skebo has diverse business consulting experience in all aspects of business operations and management such as strategic planning, financial analysis, human resources, marketing and development of funding proposals. Ms. Skebo has applied her expertise in a wide variety of industries including retail, health care, technology, oil and gas, and construction.

Ms. Skebo holds a master in business administration with a concentration in finance and international business.